I understand that the "Diving Dining" program is a fundraiser for the Portland Center for Spiritual Living designed to foster community friendships. I further understand that I am responsible for the cost of food and entertainment for my event. The Center cannot be held responsible for the behavior of guests in my home or for any damage or injury incurred while hosting the party. As a host, my primary responsibility is to provide a safe, fun and tasty environment for like-minded friends and family from church. I freely donate my time, location and food for this event to the Center, knowing that tickets to my event will be sold to benefit the Center.
