

Mile Hi Church

It's different here.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing today in reference to Rev. Bridget McCann to highly recommend her to serve in Ministry in your community.

I feel so grateful to have known Rev. McCann for just over ten years. She has been a congregant, a student in my classes, a Practitioner in my Church, a Board Member, a ministerial student where I am the Dean, and a volunteer in our community.

In every experience I have with her, she shows up beautifully. We recently re-wrote our bylaws with Rev. McCann as a central member helping us to navigate challenging language and concepts. Whether in a class, or having a personal conversation, she is bright-eyed, open, curious, creative, and collaborative. She cares deeply about people and about giving people tools and support to help them live the life they would most like to live.

Rev. McCann's heart is a beautiful expression and her consciousness is deeply anchored in our teaching. She also practices what I believe is "radical candor" in her interpersonal conversations. In other words, she speaks her truth; which I find to be very helpful and refreshing in a spiritual community.

She is an engaging teacher, an innovative speaker, and embodies deep wisdom. I believe that I am likely one of her biggest fans and feel that any community who hires her to serve as a minister will be very fortunate.

If I can answer any specific questions you have about Rev. McCann, please feel free to reach out to me.

Love & Blessings,
